THE GOVERNOR'S RECEPTION.

THE TOWN ABLAZE WITH ENTHUSIASM AND SPLENDID ILLUMINATION.

On the arrival of Governor Hampton in Anderson on Tuesday night, a large concourse of people assembled at the depot to welcome him. The Palmetto Band, Captain Allen's Company, a procession of colored men bearing torches and about two thousand citizens escorted him to the public square. The houses were brilliantly illuminated, and upon the square the darkness was completely dispelled by the thousands of bright lights which glittered in the windows of all the buildings from basement to attic. The scene was a most brilliant and cheering one, fitly representing the hearty spirit with which the Governor's visit to Anderson was welcomed by all of our citizens, and to add to the significance of the compliment, every window and piazza upon the square, which could be occupied, was filled with the fair daughters of the town, who had assembled to witness the triumphal reception accorded the people's hero in the person of Governor Hampton. Upon the public square the procession was halted, and the Governor was compelled to ascend the Court House steps in response to the hearty calls of the people for the purpose of making a speech. He was introduced in an appropriate speech of welcome by Gen. W. W. Humphreys, and, in response, the people of Anderson for the hearty welcome extended him, and said that ascending the Court House steps brought to his mind the fact that he had made his first speech after the surrender in that building to a meeting of the citizens of Anderson. He was on his way to the mountains with his spirits crushed by the disastrous end of the war, and was stopped at this point to speak to the people of Anderson. Although depressed in spirits, he was not without hope, and had predicted a bright and prosperous future for South Carolina. For the long dark years which followed that period, it seemed that his hopes for the future were not to be realized. He, however, had confidence in the future, and knew that the people of South Carolina would rise superior to their past and regain the proud eminence their patriotism and their honor deserve for them. The day of deliverance has come. Our government is restored to our people, and if they are wise it will not depart from their control. He regretted that he could not say more on this occasion, but as he had spoken frequently along the line during the day, and was to address the people of Anderson on the morrow, he excused himself and bid them good night.

General E. W. Moore was next called for, and introduced by Gen. Humphreys. He expressed pleasure at meeting the people of Anderson, whom he had wished to meet during the late political canvass. He also paid a high tribute to Governor Hampton, and made an eloquent and pointed speech of about fifteen minutes, which was well received and heartily cheered.

The Governor and General Moore were then driven as the guests of General Humphreys to his residence.

During the whole of these proceedings Captain Smith's Artillery was firing salutes to the Governor, and the most unbounded enthusiasm prevailed. The reception was a brilliant affair, a complete success, and a pleasant harbinger of the grand day which followed.

DEATH OF COL. B. S. HILL.
We regret to announce the death of Col. Richard S. Hill, which occurred at his residence in this town on last Sunday after a long and painful illness. His death, though long looked for, brings sorrow and grief to many households in Anderson County. Col. Hill was a genial gentleman, affable disposition and pleasant manners, and gathered around him many friends wherever he went. He was born on the 16th of December, 1822, near Andersonville in this County. In early life his father removed to Monticello, Ga., where he remained until his first marriage, when he removed to Monticello, Hart County, Ga., and lived there until after the late war, when he removed to Anderson, S. C., where he has since resided. He received his principal education in the town of Anderson from the late Wesley Leveillé. Among his classmates and students were Ex-Governor Brown of Georgia and ex-Senator James B. Orr. He was a member of the Georgia Convention, and advocated the ordinance of secession. At the commencement of the war he was appointed aid-de-camp to the Governor, and rendered valuable services to Gov. Brown in the organization of the militia of the State. He entered the active service in opposing Gen. Sherman's march through the State, and was engaged in many battles. He became a member of the Methodist Church in early life and continued so until his death.

The funeral services were performed by Revs. H. F. Christberg and D. E. Frierson at Robert's Church on Monday morning, after which the solemn burial service of the Masonic fraternity was performed, and the remains of the deceased interred in that Church yard, which contains the tombs of a large number of his family who have died before him.

WID AND FIRE.
Last Sunday was the most boisterous day that we have experienced this year. The wind came from the northwest, blowing almost a perfect hurricane until a late hour at night. The day previous was its complete antipode, mild and bland, so that numbers of persons throughout this and upper counties had been engaged in burning off brush, edge fields and log piles, and the wind of Sunday came upon them so suddenly and so fiercely that it picked up the surging embers and scattered them broadcast over the adjacent woods, setting fire in numerous places to the leaves and brush, which were as dry as tinder. The flames spread rapidly, and burned furiously, causing great consternation, danger and anxiety. An immense amount of forest land was burnt over, and thousands of houses were threatened by the devouring element, and only saved by the most determined and persistent efforts. Up to this time we have heard of no dwelling house nor private building which has been destroyed, but New Temple's Church, five or six miles west of this place was laid in ashes, even the grave yard being destroyed. The citizens of the surrounding country were many of them off at church, and the few who were at home found it all they could possibly do to save their own dwellings. The wildest rumors prevailed on Sunday. All portions of the County, however, have been heard from except the Saluda river, where conflicting and contradictory rumors are still received.

We are indebted to Mr. W. W. Keys for the report of the speeches on last Wednesday, which we publish to day.

Mr. Laboon's blacksmith shop, in Brushy Creek, was burned on last Monday night. The fire originated accidentally. Everything in the shop was consumed.

We are requested to announce that the Grange Association will convene with Town Creek Grange on Friday before the fourth Saturday in April. A full attendance of the members is requested.

The members of the Bowling Green Light Dragoons respectfully nominate E. E. Campbell for Lieutenant-Colonel of the Eastern Regiment of Cavalry of Anderson County.

We are requested to announce that return tickets, good for three days, will be sold to the following points hereafter at the prices annexed: Pendleton, 90 cents; Seneca City, $1.80; Walhalla, $2.40.

We are informed that the order for the election of field officers in Gen. Humphreys' Brigade will not be issued until after the meeting of the officers of the Savannah Regiment on next Monday.

We have been requested to state that the Union Meeting of the 3rd District will be held with Mountain Creek Church, beginning on Friday, in consequence of the burning of New Prospect Church.

Mr. Arnstein has returned to Anderson from New York, bringing his bride with him. We are pleased to see him back again, and wish him all the happiness and prosperity he desires in his matrimonial life.

Maj. Larkin Newton, of Garvin township, has been appointed by Governor Hampton a Trial Justice for Anderson County, under the amended act, recently passed by the Legislature, increasing the Trial Justices of the County.

The dedication of the Baptist Church at Townville on last Sunday was performed in the presence of a very large congregation. Rev. W. H. Strickland presided at the altar, and the services were very able, devout and interesting.

We have been asked to request a meeting of all the commissioned officers of the Western Cavalry Division of Anderson County to assemble in the Courthouse on next Monday, Saturday, at 12 o'clock, for the purpose of consulting about things connected with their commands.

A heavy hail-storm passed over Anderson to-day at half-past twelve o'clock, coming from a westerly direction. The hail was upon an average not quite as large as a partridge egg, but it lasted as long, and there was as much of it, as we ever saw. It did not do any serious damage, however, except perhaps to a few early vegetables.

The Greenville companies evinced the most thorough training and discipline in their drill on last Wednesday. Both were as near perfect in their execution of the various parts of the infantry tactics as companies generally get to be, and their uniforms presented a very handsome appearance. They are well officered, and the verdict of the people of Anderson is, that they are a very handsome set of gentlemen.

Capt. Allen's Company favored the citizens of Anderson with a dress parade on last Friday afternoon upon the public square. They presented a fine appearance in uniform, and showed great proficiency in drilling for the experience they have had. Our young men should take more interest in this Company, and seek to increase its numbers, and make it the equal of any Company in the State.

On Tuesday night as Governor Hampton was passing Belton on the train, salutes were fired, and in the absence of cannon anvils were used for that purpose, and after being shot several times, one of them burst and the pieces flew in every direction, one of them striking a colored man standing some two hundred yards off in the back. At first it was feared the accident would prove fatal, but we are glad to learn that the wounded man is improving.

The kitchen of Capt. M. B. Williams, who resides near Piercetown, in this County, was consumed by fire on last Sunday night, and most of its contents destroyed. The burning was supposed to be the work of an incendiary, as persons were heard moving about the place a short time before the fire was discovered. The perpetrator of this outrage ought to be ferreted out. It would be a good instance in which to apply the new law of hanging for arson.

The order preserved throughout the day in Anderson on Wednesday cannot be too highly commended. There was very little looting, no boisterous conduct and no loud swearing. Not a single arrest was made during the whole day by the local police force. The people of Anderson County did themselves honor in their great political and military demonstration, but their highest honor consisted in the excellent behavior they observed throughout the entire day.

Rev. William F. Martin, one of the oldest Baptist ministers in the Saluda Association, died suddenly one day last week whilst engaged in labor in the field. He was for a number of years one of the leading ministers of the Association, having charge of some of the largest churches in the County. He was energetic and devoted to the work of his ministry, and until his faculties were impaired by age, untiring in his labors, and commanded the confidence and respect of the community.

Mr. W. P. Cook, who shot a colored woman a few weeks ago, surrendered himself to the authorities on Wednesday the 29th inst., and immediately proceeded to Pickens upon a writ of habeas corpus, which was heard before Judge Mackey, and granted bail, was fixed at five thousand dollars. Mr. Cook gave bond in this sum for his appearance at the June term of the Circuit Court for this County. Maj. John H. Moore, of Anderson County, represents Mr. Cook in this case.

The entertainment in the Masonic Hall on last Wednesday evening by the "Theban Corps" was quite a success, and was enjoyed by a great many of our citizens. The music was very fine, and the drama, "The Last Lord," was rendered in a manner highly creditable to all the parties interested, each of whom evinced no little talent for acting. It is the general opinion that it was the best case and acted piece ever given to the public of Anderson by amateurs. The net proceeds of the entertainment amount to about $50, which will be presented to the Anderson Palmetto Band.

A literary club was organized last week, under the name of the Anderson Literary Club. The officers elected were—Col. E. M. Rucker, President, Capt. John W. Daniels, Vice-President, Mr. R. A. Reid, Treasurer, and F. C. Whitner, Secretary. The Club will meet at the Courthouse on the evenings of the first and third Fridays of every month. The meetings will be public and the citizens are invited to attend—the ladies especially. The subject for discussion for the first meeting, April 5th, "Should capital punishment be abolished, save for the crime of murder?" will be debated on the affirmative by Messrs. John E. Brumfield and Jas.

W. Brown, and on the negative by Messrs. J. C. C. Featherston and T. D. Kennedy. There will be a selected piece read by Major J. F. Whitner.

One of the most pleasant portions of Wednesday's proceedings was the visit of the Greenville Guards to the Battle Grounds from Greenville. The gentlemen of these companies came over to contribute to our meeting and pay their respects to the Governor, without any expectation of even receiving entertainment here during their stay. Their courteous conduct and gentlemanly course has made our citizens entertain the highest respect and most kindly feelings towards them. We regret that the circumstances connected with the succession of the political meeting upon the review prevented our people from showing their appreciation of the conduct of the Greenville Companies. The memory of the friendly bearing of these companies will always be cherished by the military of Anderson, and we hope we may have a visit from these companies on some occasion when we can pay them the attention they deserve.

On last Tuesday evening Mr. J. Belton Watson's horses became frightened near the Baptist Church in Anderson and ran away, breaking the tongue of the buggy. They then began kicking, and struck his mother, Mrs. Martha Watson, upon the chin, inflicting a painful wound, and striking her youngest child, little D. M. Watson, upon the cheek, breaking his cheek bone and upper jaw bone, and mashing his face terribly. Physicians were immediately summoned and cared for the wound. Several large pieces of bone were removed, and everything done for the relief of the little sufferer which was possible. The strange part of the accident is that Mr. J. Belton Watson and wife, who were upon the front seat, remained unhurt, and his mother and brother, who were upon the back seat, were both kicked. The little boy's wounds were at first considered fatal, but we learn that it is now thought he will recover, although his face is terribly swollen and congested. We hope his recovery may be more complete and more rapid than is now expected.

FENCE LAW NOTICE.
There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the time the new fence law went into operation, and, therefore, the County Commissioners again give notice that the whole County is included under the late Act, and the law went into operation on the day of its approval.

WILLIAMSTON. March 18, 1878.
MR. EDITOR: I notice in your issue of recent date a communication over the signature of "B. Ware," in reference to the misdoings of the Town Council of Williamston. We do not wish, by any means, to enter into a controversy with this noted correspondent, but only wish to call the attention of the citizens to a few mistakes which he has, unfortunately, we suppose, made in his lengthy missive. The gentleman has explained and expounded the charter of Williamston in a very decided manner. He says: "The charter says explicitly that an ad valorem tax shall be levied on all property." It doesn't say any such thing. It says: "A tax of 30 cents on the 100 dollars worth, or less, may be levied by the town council, at the discretion of the Council, provided it is assessed properly, and the Council shall also have power to tax by merchandise, carriages, dogs, &c. in the next place it says: 'The Council have exempted themselves from taxation.' This is a worse mistake, if possible, than the one made by the Clerk of the Council, who says that those of the Council who owned real estate were among the first to come forward and pay their taxes. There are many other mistakes (I will call them) which I could mention, if necessary, but will leave them for another time. And now a little advice to Mr. or Miss 'B. Ware,' or whoever that personage may be. Dear friend, the next time you undertake to 'go for' a Town Council, be sure and read the charter carefully, and get permission from the Clerk of the Council, and be sure who has and who has not paid their town tax. Respectfully,
T. B. CRYMES.

An Astonishing Fact.
A large proportion of the American people are to-day dying from the effects of Dyspepsia, or indigestion. The result of these diseases upon the masses of intelligent and valuable people is most alarming, making life a misery, and depriving them of the existence of enjoyment and usefulness as it ought to be. There is no good reason for this, if you will only throw aside prejudice and skepticism, and take the advice of Druggists and your friends, and try one bottle of Green's August Flower. Your speedily relief is certain. Millions of bottles of this medicine have been given away to try its virtues, with satisfactory results in every case. You may have a sample bottle sent to you, if you will send us ten cents to pay the postage. Three doses will relieve the worst case. Positively sold by all Druggists on the Western Continent.

Next Term.
Ahead where they loan you a dollar and shall it down till to-morrow, for a bottle of MERRILL'S REMEDY for the Liver. The enormous expense of importing the ingredients of this great liver medicine into this country, is $5 by Messrs. Druggists, Simpson, Reid & Co., sell but one sample bottle to the same person for ten cents; but as there are after sales of the large size bottles, it is cheap enough after all at two cents per dose, for a medicine that has never been known to fail in the cure of dyspepsia and all diseases of the liver. It has been found in the cure of liver complaint when taken as directed, no matter of how long standing the disease. It cures Biliousness, Constipation, Indigestion, the Bowels, Dropsy and Liver Complaint. Sample bottles ten cents; regular size, fifty cents, $1.00.

THE TOWN ABLAZE WITH ENTHUSIASM AND SPLENDID ILLUMINATION.

The Governor and General Moore were then driven as the guests of General Humphreys to his residence.

Several large pieces of bone were removed, and everything done for the relief of the little sufferer which was possible. The strange part of the accident is that Mr. J. Belton Watson and wife, who were upon the front seat, remained unhurt, and his mother and brother, who were upon the back seat, were both kicked. The little boy's wounds were at first considered fatal, but we learn that it is now thought he will recover, although his face is terribly swollen and congested. We hope his recovery may be more complete and more rapid than is now expected.

FENCE LAW NOTICE.
There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the time the new fence law went into operation, and, therefore, the County Commissioners again give notice that the whole County is included under the late Act, and the law went into operation on the day of its approval.

WILLIAMSTON. March 18, 1878.
MR. EDITOR: I notice in your issue of recent date a communication over the signature of "B. Ware," in reference to the misdoings of the Town Council of Williamston. We do not wish, by any means, to enter into a controversy with this noted correspondent, but only wish to call the attention of the citizens to a few mistakes which he has, unfortunately, we suppose, made in his lengthy missive. The gentleman has explained and expounded the charter of Williamston in a very decided manner. He says: "The charter says explicitly that an ad valorem tax shall be levied on all property." It doesn't say any such thing. It says: "A tax of 30 cents on the 100 dollars worth, or less, may be levied by the town council, at the discretion of the Council, provided it is assessed properly, and the Council shall also have power to tax by merchandise, carriages, dogs, &c. in the next place it says: 'The Council have exempted themselves from taxation.' This is a worse mistake, if possible, than the one made by the Clerk of the Council, who says that those of the Council who owned real estate were among the first to come forward and pay their taxes. There are many other mistakes (I will call them) which I could mention, if necessary, but will leave them for another time. And now a little advice to Mr. or Miss 'B. Ware,' or whoever that personage may be. Dear friend, the next time you undertake to 'go for' a Town Council, be sure and read the charter carefully, and get permission from the Clerk of the Council, and be sure who has and who has not paid their town tax. Respectfully,
T. B. CRYMES.
